Client Service Associate
Oswego Wealth Advisors

PORTLAND, OR - Sept. 25, 2020 - Oswego Wealth Advisors, a research-driven financial planning practice set in the beautiful Northwest, today announced the addition of financial expert Christina Gill to its team.

Christina will serve as the firm's Client Service Associate and has already hit the ground running while meeting with existing clients. She is responsible for coordinating with clients on their accounts while also maintaining the online client portal that provides real-time access to account information.

"Christina comes to us with stellar recommendations, and we are so excited to have her join the Oswego Wealth Advisors family," said Craig Childress, Wealth Manager at Oswego Wealth Advisors. "With more than a decade of experience in client service and financial consulting and great motivation behind her, we are confident that Christina is going to have some great knowledge and insights to share with our clients."

Earlier in her career, Christina provided high-stakes project accounting and analysis at PricewaterhouseCoopers. She also served as a trusted resource for her financial expertise at First Citizens Community Bank and Nifty Advisor Support.
